CHARACTER BUILDING AS TOLD TO MASONS

Rev. W. C. MacIntyre Gave Powerful Sermon to the Various Masonic Orders Yesterday Morning.

Members of St. Aldemar Commandery, Knights Templar, to the number of 50, and over 100 Masons from Granite and other Masonic lodges listened to the Memorial sermon by Rev. W. C. MacIntyre at the Presbyterian church yesterday morning. The speaker took his text from Luke 14:20 "This man began to build and was not able to finish."

Mr. MacIntyre said that he extended a hearty welcome to the Masons and considered it fitting that the church should welcome them because the church and true Masonry stood for the same thing.

He said that the Masons were not a secret society, as a secret society was one whose very existence and principles are unknown. He said he would not dwell upon the beauties of Masonry and preferring to his text compared the building of the ancient Masons with those of modern times, saying that while the present-day Masons were not operating Masonry in a literal sense they were builders of a mighty Masonic temple; their characters. To build character it is not enough to have one or two good attributes but it is necessary to have the foundation based upon righteousness, morality and brotherly love.

A man when he has taken degrees in Masonry has just begun his structure and that he must make his opinions beliefs, his beliefs convictions and that he must abide by his conviction and begin right to build this temple. Upon the pillars of Masonry he should place faith, virtue and knowledge, for without practical knowledge many men fall and to this should be added to his faith, and that God would add the knowledge if given a chance.

And still something more must be added to the temple to complete it, including temperance and patience. Mr. MacIntyre did not refer to temperance as meaning intemperance alone, saying that it was possible to be intemperate in many other things. Patience alone must be added—patience to hold on to the one thing and work with one end in view.

He said that this Masonic temple of character was at the mercy of circumstances without this thorough building and foundation, and that still another and this the crowning feature of all, Godliness, must be added to complete and make the structure perfect.

Card of Thanks.

I wish to extend my thanks to all the friends who attended the funeral of my son, John C. MacIntyre, and to all persons who rendered assistance during the sickness.

Edward C. MacIntyre.

Barre, Vt., 24 June 1907.

Sento il dovere di ringraziare tutti gli amici che vollero una prova spontanea di dispetto verso mio figlio Giovanni C. MacIntyre, col loro arrivo e numeroso al suo funerali, ed anche a coloro che dimisero una loro materassi durante la sua breve malattia. Edoardo C. MacIntyre.

A landbag containing valuable jewelry lost by Mrs. Julia M. Boyce, of Dorchester, Mass., while she was attending the convention in Woodstock May 24, has just been found between two mattresses at the home where Mrs. Boyce was entertained and where she herself had placed it.
